This newsletter will be short. (LOL) Short, because I am light years behind in all the projects and fun things I get to do when the "sun" is out, and the "air" is warm and the "days" are long.

The hurry-up feeling of the coming fall and winter - get me- every year about this time and I want desperately to turn my attention to finishing up the projects that, by very reason of their nature, will be only finished in the years to come: e.g. my stone walkway; painting the exterior of the house in Miamisburg which I haven't been able to find a buyer for; the mosaic floor in my basement; etc etc etc, and etc on until the eternity of the cosmos ends.

I relish in the fact that there will always be massive projects which tickle my fancy, and endless and wonderful things to play around with. It's an awesome and wonderful universe, all aspects of it, divided equally (I think) into the spirit of good and the spirit of evil, and it's a marvelous treat to walk mostly in the good side. I have been completely and utterly convinced that we as beings can choose much of our emotional and spiritual destiny which by some unknown manner then spills over into our physical realm.

Notwithstanding the calamities I encounter on a daily basis, I embrace the goodness of whatever that eternal, coincident, parallel, beside, or beyond-power is, knowing full well that the choice of good/evil, positive/negative, justice/injustice, love/hatred, is up to me.

Have fun with glass, quilting, beading, gardening, just have fun. And, as always, thanks for your business, and your ideas. m
